WIRE WEAVING DINXPERLO

Hygiene in kitchens and medical environments

The properties of stainless steel wire mesh are perfect for situations where hygiene is an important issue. Due to the effective sterilization and cleansing properties of our wire mesh, it is used in many commercial kitchens and medical environments around the world.

Woven and welded wire mesh without burs

Many decades of experience allows us to produce woven and welded wire mesh in a completely hygienic manner. We deliver in rolls as well as ready to use baskets. We work together with you during the engineering process. We use your knowledge of your specific field, and our expertise in wire mesh solutions, to create top quality products, tailor made to meet your specialized demands.
